VOL. II. NO. 38.

CHICAGO, FRIDAY, MAY 8, 1896.

PRICE, 5 CENTS

NATIONAL DERBY PROMISE.

Out of its 1895 success, St. Louis made a keen bid for the first place in Western racing when it took the 1896 $20,000 National Derby and the Chicago Futurity, 1896, with $16,000 added off Harlem's hand. The latter cuts no figure now, but the former race is likely to be the Derby of the year, should the three Californians—Crescendo Santa Belle and Baldwin's Ramiro—land safely and compete. The National Derby will thus get Ben Brush and the Californians together for the first time, and the meeting of the quartette and the selection of the early western season will attract national attention.

The race is to be run Saturday, June 20.

The original conditions of the National Derby were rather tortuous. Here they are:

The National Derby for 1896. A sweepstakes for three-year-olds—(foals of 1893), $100 each, half forfeit or only $25 if declared by January 1, 1896. Money to accompany all declarations or else they will be void. The stake to be re-opened October 15, 1896, and entries to be received upon the payment of $250 in cash. The money to accompany the entry otherwise it will be void; $300 additional to start. The Association to add a sufficient amount to make the value of the stake $15,000 in cash to the winner. The second horse to receive $2,500, the third $1,500 and the fourth $1,000. Winners of one stake in 1896 of $5,000 or three stakes of any value to carry five pounds penalty. One Mile and a Half.

There were no entries at the re-opening. The stake had been transferred in time, but owners, though notified, were busy or scattered among various racing fields. Then again, St. Louis is not Chicago and the latter's "reign of terror" was on.

As it stands, the National Derby will cost the St. Louis Fair Association some $7,000 on the display below:

Items.	Amount.
224 entries at $25.....	$ 5,600
157 eligibles (non starters) $25 more.....	3,925
57 declarations, January 1, 1896.....	3,750
10 starters (estimate) at $375.....	3,750
Total.....	$13,275
Value of Stake.....	20,000

Cost of Stake.....$ 6,725

It is evident that the Derby will hardly be more than a racing success. An even break on finance will be a good thing for the St. Louis Association. The National Derby may get twelve starters. The early Western three year old events will help or obstruct St. Louis.

The three year olds of 1896 should reflect the two year olds of 1895. In an Eastern entry way the class is not balanced at all. Ben Brush is all there is to it—certainly—with Applegate and probably Hazlet out of the way. The West must be relied on to make a doubtful issue. After the Oakley Derby one can better estimate the chances for a field at St. Louis.

There are now 167 present eligibles. They are not much in a form way, outside this group of seventeen:

Ben Brush	Hazlet	Captive
Sir Vassar	Crescendo	Beau Ideal II
Frontier	First Mate	Ramiro
Santa Bella	Sir Play	(Fonso)
Prince Leif	Semper Ego	Ramiro
Barbarossa	Nimrod	(Gano)
Ben Eder

This group can easily be reduced by leaving only nine as follows:

Ben Brush	Crescendo	Hazlet
Prince Leif	R'miro(F'ns) Ramiro(Gano)
Santa Bella	Beau Ideal II Ben Eder

The form is therefore clear and this way:

Ben Brush.....	1
Crescendo.....	2
Ramiro (Gano).....	3

By form, I mean of course, the quality of past performance as shown in 1895. Here are two tables: the first shows the performances of the selected lot last season, and the second tabulates the best racing pieces of each during the term.

There are 150 other colts and fillies eligible to run for the $25,000, outside the selected band. One would turn to a candidate with an outside chance to one of this lot of ten:

Tenacity	Can't Dance	Ad'ph Spr'ck'ls
Silver II	Damien	First Mate
King William	Loki	Longflight
Dantes

The present eligibility and likelihood of post appearance of the two Californians, Crescendo and Santa Bella, add to the interest of the St. Louis event. Crescendo is certainly the best colt, and Santa Bella as much the best filly in California. Both too, are to be pointed for the race, even though Ben Brush is to be tackled—as he surely is, if he goes on well. Such Derbies are to Mike Dwyer's fancy, and he has a great colt.

Crescendo was not himself in the East last year. After he landed at Hawthorne in the spring the colt came close to the door of death. He didn't beat Requitul but he did beat everything else in the Futurity, and ran a great race with no sort of contending luck. If he lands in St. Louis fit and well, Ben Brush will be forced to do what he can do—run fast and brave down an opponent—to beat him.

Santa Bella's a more elastic proposition. She's a good filly. But fillies in the spring are less than reliable. If she can do her best Mr. Macdonough's St. Serf—Maiden Belle (now dead) filly, will also be a factor in the race.

The St. Louis race is nearly an old fashioned Derby. The three and five pound penalties only mark its modernity. Such penalties are as they should be, too. None of the entries, by the way, have yet earned the penalties. Crescendo is closest to them.

All in all the promise of the National is gorgeous. A lover of racing for racings contention can only hope that Ben Brush, Crescendo, Santa Bella and that other Californian, which I am told is the best that Santa Anita has—Ramiro by Gano—land in Missouri fit and well and do better than well in their final preparations. Then we shall see a race that will—by report even—stir the fanatics to admiration.

GOOD RACING AT SHEFFIELD.

Every day the attendance at Sheffield grows larger. Derby day it will be a conundrum with the officials where to put the people. However, the management is clever at expedients and doubtless all will be accommodated with comfort.

The racing yesterday was of good quality and some of the finishes close. The weather was warm and the track fast. Only two actual favorites won, Little Sadie in the first and May Fern in the fifth race. The big dump occurred in the third event where T. W. Coulter's mare, California was almost a prohibitive favorite, going to the post at 1 to 3, some of the books refusing to take money on her. She should have won, but Soden rode another bad race, and Everett, on Outgo, smothered him at the finish.

Little Sadie captured the first race easily at the end, after lying back till the stretch, Morgan not riding a strong finish on Connemara.

In the 2-year-old race Easter Eve showed that her victory the other day was no fluke. She went to the post at 8 to 1, Belle of Niles being favorite, with Clematis second choice. The smart daughter of Whitney led all the way and won easily, Clematis beating Devour for the place by a short margin. Orville West, the owner of Clematis, ran the winner up to $500, $200 above her entered price, but she was bought in.

The fourth race produced a rattling finish, the four leaders finishing heads apart. Anna Mayes made the running to the stretch, with Dick Behan, Fusilier and Gomor as attendants. At the sixteenth pole the four closed up, and in the last few jumps Fusilier got his head in front winning a good race. The time, 1:21 3/4, beat the Indiana record.

May Fern and Marden Pet raced together nearly all the way in the fifth race, the former winning by half a length. Laura Cotta seemed to be winning at the head of the stretch, but was badly handled and stopped.

John Hickey led from start to finish in the closing mile race, winning easily from the favorite, Mandolina.

Everett is riding in good form, and he landed three winners and one second yesterday.

T. Murphy, the jockey, is expected at Sheffield to-day from Nashville.

Little Pete Clay made his first appearance in the saddle yesterday after his accident. He rode Thomas Paine, and was warmly welcomed as he passed the stand.

THE NASHVILLE WINNERS.

At the Nashville meeting the leading owners in the winning list were:

Owners	Won.	Owners	Won.
Hot Springs Sta.	$4,900	T. P. Hayes	$1,575
Pelham Stable	1,350	Schoenfeld Sta.	1,350
T. H. Ryan	1,075	T. A. Cook	950
H. McCoulsky	525

Eight horses won $500 or over as follows:

Horses	Won.	Horses	Won.
Lady Inez	$2,800	Ben Eder	$950
Truxillo	925	Sauteur	700
Manzanita	700	Rondo	550
Tartarian	550	Overella	500

Only four jockeys rode over five winners in the eight days. Sherrer led with twelve wins: T. Murphy had seven; A. Barrett, ten; and Morrison, five.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Don Carillo will not come for the Indiana Derby. Neither will Schiller. He has business to do early at St. Louis. The Schreiber colors in the race will be borne by Harmony, the ex-Carmichael, Rotherhill—Symphony colt, who is smart just now, and will run a creditable race.

Henry Wendt, who, as an associate of George Rose, was a successful figure in the San Francisco rings during the long winter season, will represent Barney Schreiber on the Indiana tracks when that popular figure goes to St. Louis next week. Wendt is modern, capable and popular.

DAILY RACING FORM is indebted to Mr. Eugene Leigh for the excellent likeness of Ben Brush published yesterday. It was from a photograph taken at Louisville last Thursday and as reproduced by the cleverest of all horse picture takers, R. L. Dickey of The Horse Review, appeared as a picture of the great colt as he is to-day.

NOBLE OLD GUIDO.

Old Guido has dropped out of sight, though the report is that he is being made ready at St. Louis for the eighth season. Guido is nine years old, and has run 167 races according to the books. A lot more races may have escaped. Guido was run in the bushes a great deal and bush records are often missed. The last seen of him was on the Indiana tracks last fall.

He was a bad horse to bet on then. His party knows how bad. It fell down with him several times, and yet he showed a lot of his old speed. But when it came to the racing test with cord and steel, Guido would not try. Who could blame him? The high-class race horse is almost human. In time he tires and sickens of the spur and whip, and hates the level track he knows so well. Early they are associated with pleasure—the welcome contest of youth and refined pedigree. But later comes the pain of it all and the refusal to accept it. Ten years ago "White Hat" McCarthy, he of California and C. H. Todd's 1887 American Derby fame, sold an old mare named Aurora to a rural breeder of California for $210. She was in foal to Double Cross, an inbred son of Bonnie Scotland. Joseph Cairn Simpson and Coon Sullivan, the latter still at Riverside, Ill., where Bonnie Scotland stood after he had come from Ohio to Illinois, know all about Aurora. The mare in time produced for the Californian a big colt which was named Guido and was knocked down at a yearling sale for $85 to C. V. Tupper, of San Francisco.

Dan McCarthy's $210 was used as part of C. H. Todd's purchase price. He won the American Derby of 1887 and earned "White Hat" $12,000. And yet the shrewd McCarthy has often wished that he had been lucky enough to have kept the old mare and got Guido through her.

Tupper's $85 yearling developed into a racy-looking youngster and showed some quality as a 2-year-old, when W. H. Babb, his present owner, paid $5,000 for the colt. All Guido's 2-year-old races were run in the west. In them Racine beat him three times and he beat Racine and was beaten by Pliny once. In eleven starts the Double Cross colt won twice, was second four times, third once and unplaced four times. Several of his starts were in the quarter-horse company of Red Elm, Sunday and Bob Wade, through Colorado and Montana. In 1890 Guido established his quality. As a 3-year-old he started thirty-one times, in all sorts of western company and won twenty-two races, was second four times, third twice and unplaced twice. "Here is a whalebone-and-steel 3-year-old," said turfmen. And so Guido was.

In 1891, poorly placed and badly ridden, Guido started thirty-five times in the best of western company, winning eleven races. He was second thirteen times, third four times, and only seven times unplaced. Only the good care and treatment he got helped to compensate the great horse for the merciless use made of him. The worst of the western boys rode Guido in most of the races in which he was unplaced. With "Monk" Overton the colt did especially well. There seemed to be a bond between them, and before he went west, leaving Guido to be acclimated in Chicago, Babb said that the next season he would try to judiciously race and place Guido, and never start him with a poor jockey on his back. "Every time Guido starts in 1892 and Overton can ride him he shall," said Babb. The promise was not kept. Some of Guido's 1891 winning performances were remarkable. That of mile heats at Washington Park in 1:41 1/2, 1:41, with 117 pounds up, made a new record and showed the finest quality. At St. Paul, he ran a mile with 117 pounds up in 1:40 3/4, and Aug. 2 at the same place he was second to Prince Fortunato, one and one-eighth miles in 1:54 3/4, and won at a mile with 122 pounds up in 1:42 3/4. There were few better horses in the west than Guido that season. Guido earned Babb in 1891 $8,540 and $6,100 in 1890. In his seven years on the turf Guido's record runs this way:

Year	Start	First	Sec'd	Third	Un-placed
1889	11	2	4	1	4
